

Tax Cuts Now Called Gamble By Sen. Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd accuses President Kennedy of taking a "very dangerous gamble" with the nation's solvency by trying to cut taxes while there are prospects of increased spending.

Byrd, Virginia Democrat who heads the Senate Finance Committee, disputed in an interview Kennedy's news conference assertion Thursday that "the economy will suffer" if the Senate does not act quickly on the House-passed $11 billion tax-cutting bill.

The President's intimation that this and other bills were being delayed in a slowdown to prevent action on civil rights also was denied by Byrd. The senator made it clear, however, he doesn't expect the measure to be ready for Senate action this year.

Must Curb Spending

There is room for a tax cut, Byrd said, if substantial reductions are made in spending. Instead, he said, the Kennedy administration is planning an increase in expenditures in the coming fiscal year.

Here are views he expressed in an Associated Press interview:

Q. What do you think of President Kennedy's proposal to reduce taxes and at the same time to keep spending at present or even higher levels?

A. I regard it as a very dangerous gamble with our solvency. Never before in the history of our country has any President advocated a planned deficit in order to reduce taxes. I feel that it is very untimely because we've already got a deficit this year of $9 billion. A tax cut of $11 billion will be added to the public debt.

Never Tried Before

This is the most important financial bill that's ever come before the Finance Committee because of the new policy of borrowing money to lower taxes and increasing expenditures at the same time.

Q. Has it ever been tried before in this country?

A. It has never been tried before and no president has ever recommended it.

Q. The President said the economy will suffer if the tax bill isn't passed quickly.

A. When the President started this idea of a tax reduction on borrowed money, he predicted a recession if his bill wasn't enacted quickly. It hasn't occurred. Today we're enjoying unusual prosperity.

Q. The administration says its primary objective is to attack hard-core unemployment. Do you think the federal government has a responsibility there?

A. I think it has some responsibility but I think private enterprise also has a responsibility. We must remember when we speak of unemployment that we actually have the highest employment in the history of the country.

Not Much Reduction

We have over 60 million people employed, as of now, and

Tax Cut Will Create Jobs, Kennedy Tells AFL-CIO

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy told the AFL-CIO convention today his proposed $11-billion tax cut would put wind back in the sails of the nation's economy and create millions of jobs.

He agreed with the union delegates that unemployment is the nation's chief domestic problem.

"If we can obtain the prompt passage of the pending $11-billion tax reduction bill we will be sailing by next April on the winds of the longest and strongest peacetime expansion in our nation's economic history," Kennedy said in a speech.

Top Item Avoided

But he avoided the question of reducing the work week, the top priority item of business laid before the convention by AFL-CIO President George Meany.

"We urgently need a tax cut now as insurance against recession," Kennedy said.

The tax bill, which the administration hoped to get passed early this year, is bogged down in Congress.

"We need that cut, as this bill provides, where it will do the most good—the percentage cuts in tax liabilities in the lower brackets are three times as large as those in the upper brackets," Kennedy said.

"And the greatest benefits of all will go to the unemployed for whom the tax cut will provide two million to three million new jobs."

Kennedy's remarks before more than 1,000 delegates representing 13.5 million union members followed administration policy of fending off demands for a shorter work week by emphasizing tax cut benefits.

Only One Solution

The AFL-CIO also wants the tax cut, along with other federal measures designed to create jobs, but Meany said Thursday that unemployment threatens a national catastrophe and the only solution is to cut the work week to 35 hours or less.

The convention Thursday gave short shrift to unemployment solutions proposed by

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller said a national job placement center is the key missing element to provide work for a large portion of the nation's jobless workers.

Kennedy will find the AFL-CIO agrees with his proposed $11-billion tax cut and other federal measures to create jobs. But AFL-CIO President George Meany's call for "a 35-hour work week or shorter now" is labor's major point of disagreement with the administration.

"Curse To Society"

Meany said cutting the work week is the only solution for unemployment. He criticized those who say automation can become either a curse or a blessing.

"There is no element of blessing in it," he said. "It is rapidly becoming a curse to our society."

Rockefeller's job placement proposal and his call for strict control on federal spending as a condition for a tax cut were greeted by silence.

The only applause of note for the governor came when he repeated his opposition to a federal "right-to-work law," an obvious crack at his prime potential opponent for the presidential nomination—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Moonshot Given One Chance In 4

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The television-toting Ranger VI mooncraft should have its faulty electronic parts replaced and be ready for shipment to Cape Canaveral, Fla., by mid-December.

Even then, the boss of the trouble-plagued project to crash-land cameras on the moon gives Ranger VI only one chance in four of complete success.

Harris Schurmeier, Ranger boss at the U.S. space agency's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, said he expects replacement diodes to arrive next week and that if nothing else goes wrong Ranger VI should be launched in the first quarter of 1964.

Diodes are tiny electronic parts which do the work of radio tubes in spacecraft control systems. Some diodes in the spacecraft, originally scheduled to be launched last month, were found to be faulty and the shot was postponed.

"Of course, a million and one things can happen before launch," Schurmeier said.

"We've done all we could to make Ranger VI work but there still is only one chance in four of complete success for the mission."

The North Koreans agreed to meet Saturday with U.N. Command officials in the Panmunjom truce village to discuss a U.N. protest of the attack.

The Korean captain, Hong Chung-wi, 33, and the American, Spec. 5 Harold Aldrich, 26, of Montrose, Colo., were part of an unarmed patrol of two Americans and six South Koreans sent out Wednesday to inspect zonal markers about 60 miles northeast of Seoul on the north bank of the Pukhan River.

The U.N. Command notified the Communists of the patrol's mission. All eight men wore yellow arm bands identifying them as unarmed men on official business.

South Korean troops recovered Hong's body today. The other members of the patrol fled back to the river to take cover and escaped when darkness fell.

Aldrich, hit in the thigh, was reported in good condition. The American leader of the group, Lt. Col. Alphas R. Clark of Leavenworth, Kan., was treated for shock and exposure.

White spectators, some yelling threats, lined the streets for three blocks near the courthouse for the first march. There was no violence as more than 50 policemen patrolled the area.

The Rev. Harvey Cox, a professor at Andover-Newton Theological Seminary in Massachusetts, and the Rev. David King, minister of a Congregational Christian Church in Amherst, Mass., led the march, carrying four-foot crosses.

The other ministers followed, each walking hand-in-hand with a Negro girl. Negro demonstrators lined up behind them. They were met by Sheriff Raymond Rawls, who ordered the procession to the upstairs courtroom.

Williamston, N.C. (AP) — Fifteen white clergymen from the North, their leaders carrying wooden crosses, braved an angry white crowd and led an anti-segregation march here Thursday. They were jailed and began a hunger strike.

In the first of two demonstrations in this farming town of 6,000, the Northerners and 54 Negroes, including 22 under 16 years of age, were arrested.

Twenty-four Negro teenagers then marched on the courthouse but they dispersed and there were no arrests.

Arenac Is Star In Spud Trials

Eight different varieties of potatoes were tried out under normal field conditions on the Vernon Wick farm at Cornell this summer. These varieties were not new to some sections of the country; but some of them had never been tried in the Upper Peninsula, said Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director.

Crop Harvest Weather Ideal

LANSING (AP) — Michigan had ideal fall harvest weather and production of the state's major crops is expected to run unusually high this year.

The November crop report prepared by state and federal agricultural authorities predicts output of Michigan's 17 major field and fruit crops will be 10.4 million tons.

This would top both the 1962 total and the 1957-61 average by three per cent.

A record dry bean production, 8.3 million hundredweight, resulted from higher acreage as well as an improved yield per acre, bettering 1962 production by 10 per cent.

Corn-for-grain production is expected to hit 98.8 million bushels—3 per cent below the all-time record 1961 crop.

Estimated sugar beet production of 1.2 million tons is second only to the 1959 record of nearly 1.3 tons.

The fall potato crop is estimated at 6.7 million hundredweight—not as good as last year but still above average.

October mild production was about the same as a year earlier, but over the first 10 months of this year showed a one per cent rise over the same period of 1962.

Michigan's apple crop is estimated at 12 million bushels compared with 13 million last year, and the state's grape crop is forecast at 33,000 tons—less than half last year's record crop.

Five Hunters Fined $153.60

TRENTARY — Conservation Department officers of the Trentary area have been busy with game law enforcement related to the opening of the deer hunting season. Arrests included:

Norman Bancroft, 24, St. Johns, for having a loaded gun in a car, and Darrell Mills, 25, also of St. Johns, two uncased guns in a car, both arrested Nov. 9 in Mathias Township. Justice Walter Jonas of Munising ordered Bancroft to pay $33 and Mills $23 fine and costs.

Carl Johnston, 36, of Marquette, was arrested in Turin Township on Nov. 10 for having a loaded gun in a car; and Arlie Combs, 42, of Coldwater, arrested the same day in Forsythe Township on the same charge. Both men pleaded guilty in Justice Arthur Burkman's court, Gwinn, and both were ordered to pay a total of $32.30 each.

Ronald Mertins, 28, of Detroit, was arrested at 9:20 p.m. Thursday in Mathias Township for having a shot gun and slug load in a game area without a deer license in possession. He pleaded guilty in Justice Jonas' court and paid fine and costs totaling $33.

Helms, Malloch Promoted In ROTC

HOUGHTON — Twenty-seven students have received promotions to the rank of staff sergeant in the Michigan Tech Army ROTC Cadet Corps for the 1963-64 academic year, according to Capt. Ancil R. Pressley, commandant of cadets.

Included in the promotion list were: Gary Helms, of Escanaba; James Malloch, of Manistique; Robert Anderson, of Ironwood; Jerry Grenfell of Ramsay.

Helms, a junior metallurgy major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorwin Helms, of 920 5th Ave. S., Escanaba.

Malloch, a sophomore chemical engineering major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Malloch, Jr., of 542 Michigan Ave., Manistique.

Plead Not Guilty To Game Charge

Three Escanaba men pleaded not guilty to conservation game law charges when arraigned before Justice Ray Peterson of Spalding this week. No date for a preliminary hearing has been set as yet.

The trio, charged with transporting a loaded .22 calibre rifle in an automobile, includes: Richard Mathieson, 31, Joseph Grenier, 17, and Lloyd Beauchamp.

Conservation officers arrested the three men in the Spalding fire tower area in the nighttime.

Steps On Baby

BEULAH (AP) — Mrs. Karen Nye, 21, of Frankfort was free on $2,500 bond Thursday to await Circuit Court trial on a charge of manslaughter in the Nov. 4 death of her 5-month-old son, Jeffrey. She stood mute when arraigned Tuesday and the court ordered a plea of innocent entered for her. Authorities quoted her saying earlier that she stepped on the infant because he was crying as she tried to feed his older brother.

U.P. Is Missing Boat In Luring 1964's Tourists

The Upper Peninsula had a gain of from 6 to 10 per cent in tourist business last summer over 1962, estimates Ken Dorman, manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Assn., but he's more concerned about next summer than last summer.

Dorman says that the Upper Peninsula has increased its support of the Association every year since its formation in 1960 but that it's still far from sufficient to bring in the U.P.'s tourist potential.

"The east end of the U.P. and the Copper Country did well in tourism this year," said Dorman. "In between it was generally good where areas had activities for tourists. Our chief complaint from them is that there's not enough to do. They run out of scenery. You can get a lot of mileage out of scenery, but you've got to draw tourists' attention to it.

Need Is Now

"Our need for money in the Upper Michigan Tourist Association to promote 1964 touring in the Upper Peninsula," says Ken Dorman "is now."

"Next summer's tourist business in the U.P. depends largely on the folders printed before Jan. 1. An eastern U.P. county cut its appropriation to the Tourist Association $200 to support a local tourist promotion. I must explain to them that this $200 loss to us for promotion of the U.P. means an additional loss of $150 in state matching funds."

"They'll go to 25 waterfalls and argue about which one is best, but they must be identified and there must be a path to them."

Scenic Routes

"No one is backtracking in tourist travel today. The Upper Peninsula must arrange its tours so visitors can go one way and return another. And we make a mistake if we feature routes instead of attractions. Our tourist business people along U. S. 2 and M-28 should be interested in the proposed scenic routes because they'll bring them more business."

"The average fellow along 2 or 28 is fighting the shoreline drive projects and it's the biggest mistake he could make because they'll generate tourist traffic that will bring the businesses along 2 and 28 their share."

"You can now drive the full length of 2 or 28 in the Peninsula on one tank of gas and some tourists do it. We must stop them with something to see and do. If we get enough into the area they'll make business for the motels and restaurants."

"The Upper Peninsula motel, hotel, restaurant and other tourist business operators are not working together. In the local situation this affects the Chamber of Commerce and regionally it affects the Upper Michigan Tourist Association."

"Our motels and restaurants are helping to promote camping because they don't let people outside the area know that we have lots of accommodation."

ations for sleeping and eating. They need listings circulated in areas where our tourist business is generated. To put up a roadside sign doesn't help.

"Some of the motels subscribe to special listings. One official looking such listing for Michigan lists only 17 motels in the U. P. Our official U. P. listing has 350, but there should be a listing of between 700 and 900. Michigan has about 8,000 motels, but lists only about 3,000 in official publications.

"There are rumors among tourists that accommodations are lacking in the Upper Peninsula; that people have to sleep in cars. One of our Tourist Assn. shopping teams had to sleep in their car at the Sault last summer. The tourist doesn't realize that we have about a thousand motels in the U. P., and that they're as good as motels elsewhere. Most of them have been built since World War II.

Trailer Protection
"There are 225 motels in Mackinac County, but an official looking special listing reports only 5 of them. It behooves the motel operators in the U. P. to get their listings in our 100,000 mailings to people before they come to Michigan. This is the hardest thing to get over to our own tourist business people."

"People plan their vacations so far ahead of time that if you don't get information on accommodations to them they'll bring their own. A man will spend $1,000 to avoid being taken. The average tourist trailer owner could stay at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac and give $100 in tips every day and have a cheaper vacation than he has in his trailer if he only uses it for his vacation. He's independent, all right, but he's spending more than if he stopped at the best places we have."

Hospital

Patients admitted to St. Francis Hospital on Thursday included: George Waurzyniak, Detroit; Bruno Nummiller, Rock; Kimberly Moraco, 612 S. 8th St.; Mrs. Margaret May, 13 Harland Ave., Wells; Mrs. George Williamson, Rte. 1, Rapid River; Mrs. Adolph Seybold, Powers; Robert Reno, 1406 N. 16th St.; Mrs. Elizabeth Faust, Rte. 1, Bark River; Clarence Hansen, Rte. 1, Escanaba; Gordon MacKenzie, Bay View Location; Walter Kulik, 630 S. 15th St.; and Mary Finlan of Trentary.

Doctor Training Changes Active

ANN ARBOR — "The doctor of tomorrow will be as different from today as the one today is different from 30 or 40 years ago," says Dr. Lester J. Evans.

He said it is "likely that new professions or specialists will develop and old ones disappear or take on new tasks . . . the ambulant patient may become the central-focus of service with a readjustment of organization and facilities (on the part of hospitals) to meet his needs."

Dr. Evans said "medicine is in a period of growth in which new building blocks from the social and behavioral sciences are added to the structure built in the last 100 years on the biological and physical sciences."

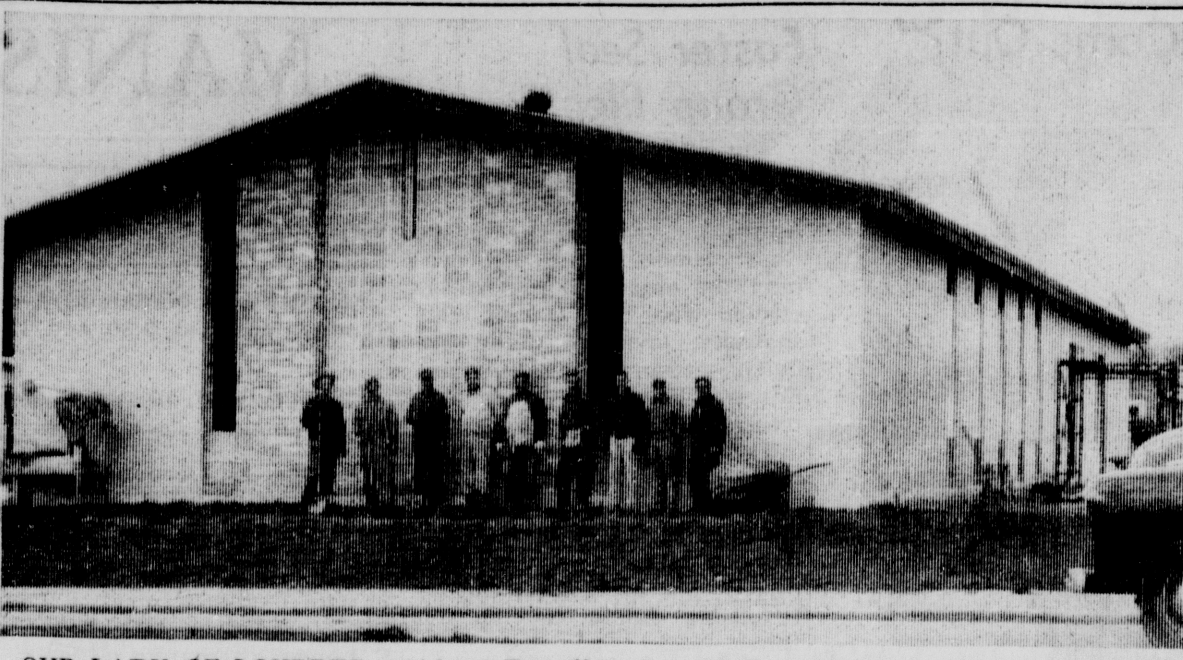

"Knowledge of these fundamental aspects of the biological mechanisms of disease and the life process will in turn force medicine to examine more closely the circumstances under which disease and illness occur in a human who is social, thinking, and feeling being."

"If more people are to live longer, if the threat of disabling illness is lessened because of organized rehabilitation activities, if chronic organic diseases are prevented or cured in the classical sense, if we learn what good mental health means, it is natural to establish another set of guide posts pointing in the direction of the social and behavioral sciences."

"Relatively speaking," Dr. Evans said, "these sciences are young, dating from the early part of this century, but only through their integration in medical teaching and learning can the physicians basic service to mankind be advanced or even preserved."

"The development of health profession education in the university has reached a critical stage which makes it imperative for the university to examine the road ahead."

"How can the university free itself from its inbred bureaucratic inhibitions and restrictions and regain control of its own destiny? Is there a danger, as some think, that we are threatened with a form of mid-century proprietary medical education which might result in medical education being cut off from the mainstream of social and educational growth?" he asked.

Boss Of AP Says 1964 Looks Like Big News Year

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"There is more soul-searching, more trying of new methods, more experimenting with new ideas in the profession than ever before," Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, said today.

"All of this change within the profession, all of the controversies over the social questions of the day, all this political fury, all of the scientific advances that tumble on us every day," Gallagher told the annual meeting of Associated Press Managing Editors, "makes this one of the most exciting ages in history."

"I for one would not like to be a writer or an editor in any other age. It is the task, yours and ours, to convey to our readers this sense of excitement, this sense of wonder, this sense of understanding of the age we live in. If we can do this, and we can, we will have made a worthwhile contribution to the age and the civilization we live in."

Emphasis On Quality
Gallagher said: "With one or two exceptions all of this emphasis has been toward developing better news reports and away from pure entertainment in newspapers. I think that this

Soo Lock Project Set Up For 1964

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Enlargement of the second Soo lock should be in full swing late next year, says Lt. Gen. Walter J. Wilson, chief of the Army Corps of Engineers. Construction of the $40.3 million lock, which would accommodate ships up to 1,000 feet in length, has been held up since last year. The rebuilt lock would dwarf the other three still in operation here. It would measure 110 feet by 1,200 feet.

Stump-Sitters Like Weather

By BOB VOGES

At the crack of dawn today, 400,000 hunters were in the woods trying to shoot down and bring back just one of the estimated 800,000 deer herd.

It was a good day for stump-sitters — the fellows who just sit by a trail and wait for the deer to come their way.

It was bad weather for trackers, those who follow deer through the snow, except in the western end of the Upper Peninsula.

The forecast was for no snow, fair and sunny weather and the temperature ranging from the low 20s to the mid-40s.

The advance guard of the hunting army took advantage of the earlier opening last Saturday in the western Upper Peninsula. There were some 80,000 hunters, mostly natives, in the field.

Those who didn't bag a buck will be moving into the eastern half of the peninsula or crossing the straits to try their luck again.

The Conservation Department predicts 120,000 deer will be taken this season, about evenly divided between bucks and does and fawns.

Tax Exemption Ceiling Erased

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Thursday handed down an opinion which had the effect of washing out the legislature's effort to restrict the Veterans Homestead Tax Exemption to those earning less than $7,500 a year.

The legislature this year adopted the income maximum in an effort to curb the state's cost for the exemption for disabled veterans.

In a clarifying opinion for Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum and several lawmakers, Kelley said no veteran or veteran's widow receiving service-connected disability compensation from the federal government will be affected by the income ceiling.

British Spooks On TV Held Up

LONDON (AP)—One of Britain's most popular television programs, which pokes fun at politicians, will be discontinued after Dec. 28 because of the general election next year.

The British Broadcasting Corp. gave no indication Wednesday whether program—"That Was the Week That Was"—would be revived after the elections.

The BBA, an independent corporation chartered by the government, said it took the decision on its own.

School District Funds Embezzled

WHITE CLOUD (AP) — Kenneth R. Monroe, 40, of Fremont, was free on his own recognizance and is awaiting Newaygo County Circuit Court arraignment for alleged embezzlement of more than $12,000. He was bound over Wednesday for a Dec. 4 appearance after waiving examination. Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum said Monroe admitted appropriating various funds entrusted to his care over a six-year period in which he served as secretary of Gordon School District in Newaygo County.

Prestige Lost By Gov. Romney?

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program for Michigan went down the legislative drain Thursday—and his political future may have gone down with it.

Romney has frequently been mentioned as a potential candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, despite his denial of any such ambition.

But most observers believe the defeat of the governor's tax proposals by the legislature is certain to have a damaging effect on Romney's national reputation and political prestige.

The governor indicated his awareness of what was at stake when he outlined his fiscal program—keyed to a controversial state income tax—as the special session convened last September.

"I am not concerned about what the political consequences may be," he declared. "I have proposed this program because it is fair and because it will help Michigan and all its citizens."

"In working out this proposal, I asked myself only two questions: If not now, when? If not us, who?"

Two months and two days later, his proposals buried and the legislature adjourned, Romney was asked by newsmen whether he felt the action had tarnished his national political prestige. He snapped:

"I don't know, and I couldn't care less."

Whether the setback eventually means Romney will quit politics and return to his former job as president of American Motors remains to be seen.

The governor's closest confidants say he is a dedicated man who will lick his political wounds, consider the defeat a personal challenge and run for election to a second term just to finish a job he feels needs to be done.

Escanaba Hunter Is Among 1,750 On 'Bonus' List

An Escanaba hunter, John O. Moberg of 810 Ludington St., is among 1,750 deer hunters in Michigan who will receive an antlerless deer hunting permit—late in arriving because the applications for the permits had been "temporarily mislaid."

The Conservation Department, rushing the delayed permits to the applicants after a drawing in Lansing, informed Moberg and the others:

"In the course of processing more than a quarter-million applications for antlerless deer permits, a box of applications was temporarily mislaid which caused an unfortunate delay in issuance of some permits. We are sorry that yours happened to be one of those in this box."

Moberg should have received his at the time the other special permits were issued. The Department said it was sorry about the mix-up and offered apologies.

For Moberg the situation isn't a total loss. The permit was rushed to him at DeShambo's Camp on the Big West in Marquette County. Until the season ends he can use the permit to take a doe or a fawn in the specified permit area.

Civil Defense Meeting For 6 Counties Dec. 6

Local government officials, legislators and other selected community leaders from Marquette, Alger, Delta, Schoolcraft, Menominee and Dickinson counties have been invited to a civil defense training program in Escanaba on Dec. 6. The session will be held in the House of Ludington and will last from 9:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Professor Leon Weaver of Michigan State University, director of the State Civil Defense Training Program, says the day's program will include discussion and question and answer periods on national, state and local civil defense plans, warning systems, radio-logical defense and shelter projects.

Weaver is working with area civil defense coordinator Pershing Trembath of Marquette to arrange the program. Serving as resource people will be County Civil Defense Directors Robert Gauthier of Munising, Mason Johnson of Escanaba, Graham Peebles of Iron Mountain, Glen Wilson of Marquette, Dave Olive of Stephenson, Joseph Banach of Menominee and John Cartensen of Manistique.

Co-chairmen of the Escanaba meeting will be Mayor Harold J. Vanlerberghe and Wesley Hansen. Hansen is chairman pro-tem of the Delta Board of Supervisors and chairman of the board's Civil Defense Committee.

Speakers will include Russell Jenkins and Victor Stine of MSU, Dale Ball, deputy director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Captain Richard Nicolen, deputy director of civil defense for the Michigan State Police, East Lansing.

Registration For School Election To End Nov. 18

Voters of the Escanaba Area Public Schools district who are not now registered have until Nov. 18 to register with their city or township clerk for the special election to be held on Dec. 16.

The school district voters will on that date ballot on the question of financing replacement of the Franklin School building. The district is composed of the City of Escanaba and the townships of Wells, Ford River and Cornell.

Voters in Escanaba should register at the City Hall (at the office of the city clerk) before 8 p. m. Nov. 18; and in the townships voters should register with the clerk in the township in which they reside until 5 p. m. Nov. 18.

Rumors Of Weather

There have been rumors this week of a blizzard in the Ironwood area which ended the deer hunter's worry about a White Christmas and left them knee deep in worry about whether they would get home for the holidays. But since the U.S. Weather Bureau cut Escanaba off its list, withdrew its services and ended a relationship of 92 years, we have no learned swallow watchers on the poop deck of the Federal Building with whom we can talk over these tantrums of Mother Nature.

We are not tempted to criticize the Weather Bureau for withdrawing its last man from the Escanaba Weather Station because we know that the Bureau has its own problems. All we know is that the Weather Bureau has 6,500 employees and that there are now only weather station staffs in the Upper Peninsula at Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie. This leaves the other 13 counties of the U.P. with no climate codgers.

The Escanaba area wouldn't take Marquette's weather on a bet, but gets it anyway because the Milwaukee papers usually headline a story on a Marquette snowfall: "Blizzard Sweeps U.P.!" As for the Sault, we regard it, weatherwise, as a part of Canada. It's 174 miles away by highway and 174 light years away climatically.

The Weather Bureau, of course, has observers in Escanaba, people who read the gauges and plumbobs and the thermometers that the meteorologists use in their calculations, but their findings are classified top secret and sent away to be hidden in the government archives. We'll get them back from the Bureau of Documents in a few years, all tabbed and useless, but for the present they're only reduced to a cryptology that says the Upper Peninsula will have weather.

Consider Thursday's forecast for the U.P. "Mostly cloudy and cold this afternoon with scattered snow flurries or light showers. Clearing and cold tonight, low in the 20s. Friday, fair and warmer. High in the 40s."

Are we to believe that the great advance in meteorology and Weather Bureau efficiency has brought us to a pass where we're asked to believe that the weather in Ironwood and DeTour will be the same? And that also goes for Copper Harbor and Menominee? This is nonsense. They are under extremely varied meteorological influences. Lake Superior makes much of the weather for the Midwest and almost assures that Munising won't ever be confused with Menominee, weatherwise, so that visitors will be asking "Which is the Toni?"

The U.S. Weather Bureau has 2,000 professional meteorologists in its Washington offices and its 300 field stations and it's growing rapidly. But not in the Upper Peninsula. Our congressmen and senators have acquiesced in a closing of the Escanaba Weather Station.

Last year the Weather Bureau spent $115 million, compared with $27 million 10 years ago. When it got $27 million it had two weather men at Escanaba. Now that it gets $115 million it has none. Even in an age of Do-It-Yourself this is ridiculous.

Is this one of the benefits of automation? Weathermen Jack Decker and Tom Coen have been put to pasture. (Jack's still telling the wind direction on a radio program). The Weather Bureau is no longer telling people in the Delta Area what the weather is going to do to them here on earth, but it has some jim dandy new data on outer space from the instruments in Tiro satellites.

We're not agin scientific research in meteorology, mind you. The weather forecasting suggests that we can stand quite a bit of it. But we're long on applied research. If the earthlings who pay the taxes and get the frostbite aren't going to get a look-in on the new wonders of weather management, what good is it?

The Weather Bureau has got competition from other government agencies dabbling in the weather business. It has been suggested to us that Escanaba shouldn't bother with the Weather Bureau, but go to the U.S. Air Force, the Navy or the Federal Aviation Agency to get weather information. All these agencies have weather staffs. The Air Force employs 11,200 people in weather analysis, nearly twice as many employees as the Weather Bureau, the Navy's got nearly 3,000 in that work and the FAA nearly 2,000.

But we're opposed to proliferation of government services. We want to resume our marriage with the Weather Bureau, which has become such a reluctant bridegroom. The Weather Bureau was wrong in 3 of 20 forecasts last year. We'll forgive error. It's better than nothing.

The Doctor Says:

Itching, Cracked Hands Helped

Q—I have had "detergent hands" for over a year. They itch a lot, then they blister and crack. I have to have them in water a lot and rubber gloves seem to make them worse. What can I do?

A—This condition has been getting a lot of attention lately. It is usually a chemical irritation and not an allergy. When you wear ordinary rubber gloves, your hands become soaked in their own sweat. This is the reason the gloves can make things worse. However, rubber gloves that are lined with cotton are available. You should use these whenever your hands would otherwise come in contact with the strong detergents used for washing clothes, dishes, walls or floors. Above all, do not use these strong chemicals to wash your hands.

When you must expose your hands to strong detergents you may prefer to rub a thin layer of petroleum jelly on them rather than wear gloves. To wash your hands use one of the nonalkaline (neutral or slightly acid) soaps now available. Alkaline soaps remove the protective oils in your skin and cause excessive drying. This leads to itching and cracking. Avoid washing your hands frequently and dry them by patting them with soft disposable tissues.

Q—I am using saccharine tablets. Can they cause my heart to skip a beat? It is serious?

A—The tablets are not the cause of your skipped beats. The skipped beats are harmless. You should first learn to accept them as a minor annoyance, then to ignore them.

Q—What causes swelling of the legs in people with heart disease?

A—Persons with leaky heart valves, congenital or resulting from rheumatic fever, eventually reach the point where much of the blood which should be forced into the aorta slips backward with each beat. This damming back of blood is called decompensation. When it occurs, it chiefly affects the most dependent parts of the body. This would cause edema or waterlogging of the ankles in a person who is standing or sitting in a chair but in a person who is lying in bed the edema would be most noticeable around the hips. It might also involve the internal organs. Appropriate doses of digitalis strengthen the heart beat and give partial relief.

"You Suppose These Spots Will Come Out?"

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Walter Reuther is worth listening to once a year, if for no other reason than to let the people who disagree with him get mad at him all over again. Reuther regularly uses the annual convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department for his state of the union message to tell what's wrong with everything from his point of view. And this year's oration was in his usual angry, oratorical style.

He is still just as red-headed and full of beans as ever. He talked for an hour and a half. To his credit, he is one of the few speakers in the country today who can hold even a captive audience that long. Here is a highly condensed version of the highlights for those who want to argue:

● The old concepts of trade unionism no longer are adequate. Labor no longer is just an economic pressure group. Its interests are not just national, but international.

● The people of Latin America, Africa and Asia who earn but $100 a year are not sure whether our system is best.

We have millions of have-not people right here in America—the unemployed, the migratory workers, the invisible poor, the victims of social neglect, those who live in the sub-basements of the American system.

● America will be judged not by how rich it is, how highly developed, not by what it has, but by what it does with what it has. Technical progress must be translated into human progress. This is the task of the labor movement.

● There are many tragic deficits in America. This is the richest nation, but the millions deprived of education and thrown out of work are social dynamite in America.

● Juvenile delinquency is a serious problem, but adult delinquency is far more serious because it has failed to deal with the problems of juvenile delinquency.

● America does less for its older people than any industrial country on either side of the Iron Curtain. It is a myth that America is the healthiest nation because it is 11th in infant mortality.

● Labor does not argue over the competence of U. S. medical practice.

It is the alliance of the National Association of Manufacturers with the American Medical Association which holds back adequate health care in this country.

● The civil rights deficit is a moral issue which raises the question of our ability to lead the free world. It is fine when the President stands at the Berlin Wall. But we have no chance to defend freedom in Berlin if we deny freedom in Birmingham. We must make sure that 100 years after the Emancipation Proclamation every American shall be a first-class citizen.

● The key deficit of all is on the job front. Our unemployment for the past 60 months has not been 5 per cent but 7 per cent, if you count the invisible unemployed.

In 1962 our unemployment rate was not 5.2 per cent but 8.5 per cent and we wasted more time through unemployment than we did through strikes. There must be a job for every able citizen. This is our top priority problem.

● The John Birch Society and the radical right today are showing more militancy than the labor movement. The superpatriots are so far to the right they consider President Eisenhower a Communist and want to impeach the chief justice. But when the John Birch Society tries to weaken social justice and the labor movement, it plays into the hands of communism.

● Our job is to get the labor movement off dead center. We should take on the responsibility as architects for a better tomorrow, to give it a sense of direction and purpose. We in the labor movement must find ourselves and help America find itself.

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

The Ironwood Red Devils, untouched in an eight-game schedule in the football season just past, were named No. 1 team in the Upper Peninsula and the team's coach, Harry Monson, was, for the second season, named coach of the year. Monson is a graduate of Escanaba High School and of Michigan State.

Mrs. Marian Ingebreten was installed worthy matron of R. C. Hatheway Chapter of Eastern Star at ceremonies at the Escanaba Masonic Temple last evening. A past matron's pin was presented to Mrs. Floyd Anuta, outgoing matron. Henry Olson continues as worthy patron.

John Rankin of Allegan was the object of an intensive search in the Seney area for almost 30 hours. Fellow hunters found him and brought him back to conservation headquarters where an examination disclosed he had not suffered seriously from the ordeal. He is the first lost hunter reported this season.

Twenty Years Ago

Robert Gordon, a foreman at the Escanaba dock project, but for the past few months employed on the Alaska military highway, was fatally injured in a mishap near Dowell in Yukon Territory. His widow and three daughters survive.

Election of officers of the Orpheus Club resulted in the naming of O. V. Thatcher, president, Lois Lundstrom, secretary and Elaine Broberg, treasurer.

Dr. N. L. Lindquist, Manistique physician, addressed the Manistique Women's Club today on the theme, "The Effect of War on Modern Medicine."

Thirty Years Ago

Stanley Hawkins and Sherman Hale have been selected by the Gladstone Rotary Club to attend the Older Boys' Conference at Ishpeming. C. P. Tirus will accompany the boys.

John Baner of Ironwood and John I. Bellaire of Manistique are much encouraged over the acclaim by literary critics that has come their way for two booklets they have collaborated with in publishing. Both booklets deal with the Kitchi Kipi and with Indian lore dealing with the big spring.

Easter Seal Group Elects

The Schoolcraft County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults Incorporated met in the Court House Wednesday evening for organization. Officers elected were Mrs. Daniel Warshawsky, president; John Fackety, vice-president; and Mrs. Edward Jorgenson, secretary-treasurer.

The report of the committees revealed that four wheel chairs are on permanent loan to crippled persons and that two pairs of glasses and one dental service has been cared for by revolving funds set up for this.

A contribution was voted to the Child Guidance Clinic because so many physically handicapped children are referred there for diagnostic purposes.

A donation was also voted to Bay Cliff Health Camp to help meet the budget for eight physically handicapped children who attended last summer.

Ray Pawlowski, field director of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, spoke on services of the organization.

Crippling defects from arthritis, cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, strokes and speech disorders are aided through the Easter Seal Drive and the Lily Parade. Approximately 50 per cent of the money sent to the state organization is returned to local counties in services or materials.

The Perlstein Clinic for the detection of cerebral palsy is one state activity provided by Easter Seals. Two Schoolcraft children were referred to this clinic when it was held in Marquette some time ago.

The state society will also finance home-bound service to physically handicapped shut-ins in Schoolcraft County in the near future. This service is being set up. A walker and a bed lift have been provided by the state organization to the county.

The Easter Seal committee, which consists of local persons is an emergency committee which has responsibility of securing adequate funds for the budget, to meet any large expenditure of money which might be necessary to aid some severely physically-handicapped child or adult.

The Schoolcraft County Chapter will meet again next month to set up the standing committees for the annual fund drive which takes place just prior to Easter Sunday.

Dr. LaSorsa Joins Clinic

Dr. Armand LaSorsa has become associated with Dr. Merle E. Wehner in medical practice here and began work Wednesday.

Dr. LaSorsa grew up in Pittsfield, Mass., took pre-medical training at Andrews university in Berrien Springs and medical training at Loma Linda University in Los Angeles.

He graduated in 1957 and is married.

He served 2½ years as a Naval flight surgeon at Annapolis, one year of general practice residency and one year in private general practice in California.

With The Hunters

Leslie Walstrom, Conservation officer tells an interesting hunting story about Joe McDonough's dog. The tiny dog was with Walstrom and Danny McDonough in a car during bear season, when Walstrom was riding through Seney checking on cub bears running about after the mother had been killed. One of the cubs ran alongside the car and then began feeding in a hornet's nest. The little dog saw the cub begin to run away, thought it was running from him and ran after it — until he got in the hornet's nest, that is. The dog quickly ran for the car but was stung extensively.

A 1,000-pound cow moose was shot in the woods near Seney, apparently by a hunter in the first days of the hunting season, Leslie Walstrom, conservation officer reports. The dead animal was found by a hunter.

"Breakthrough" Antenna Improves TV Viewing

A scientific "breakthrough" in TV antenna design now makes available better television reception for set owners everywhere, and especially benefits the estimated four and a half million viewers who live in "fringe" areas where signals are weak and fuzzy.

Called the "Crossfire," and developed after years of research by engineers of Channel Master Corporation, the new antenna makes the first practical use of the principle of Proportional Energy Absorption to give clearer, stronger all-channel reception everywhere. In fringe areas particularly, it delivers pictures free of "snow," "ghosts," "flickering" and other interference. The antenna is also designed for excellent color TV reception and FM radio.

Harold Harris, Channel Master vice-president in charge of engineering, in explaining this successful use of the Proportional Energy Absorption principle, called the new development a "major breakthrough" in the art of antenna design. "It is now possible," he explained, "to deliver maximum signal strength to the set on all channels 2 through 13."

Ann Landers

She's Doing Fine

Dear Ann Landers: You were very helpful to me four years ago when I wrote about my problem. At that time I had just lost all my teeth and wanted to know if I should enter college in spite of the fact that a gum deformity made it almost impossible to wear dentures. You said to go, and I took your advice. It worked out well.

My present problem is that I am now divorced from an irresponsible no good I foolishly married while a junior in college. I, like so many other young idiots thought I could reform him. I tried a reconciliation three times, without success.

During the last reconciliation I became pregnant. I filed suit for divorce without knowing my condition and decided to go through with it. I'm now a graduate student and am dating some interesting young men. They know all about me and my condition. I'm in my eighth month of pregnancy and my favorite boy friend wants me to go to a formal dinner-dance in a couple of weeks. I feel fine and would like to go if you think it would be proper. Please advise. — UNDECIDED

Dear Undecided: Any girl who is toothless and in her eighth month and can still get dates doesn't need any advice from anybody. You're doing fine. Good luck.

Dear Ann Landers: Cheers and congratulations to the writer who posted on his door the message: "If you are uninvited and unexpected, you are also unwelcome." I wish I had the guts to do it.

I am a writer who works at home, too. But I somehow found that if you have a home office no one really believes you are working. Creative writing can be pure torture. A writer is working even when he is staring into space — trying to snag that elusive idea or that phrase that says it best.

Heaven knows how many times I've been zinging away at my typewriter at long last—after several days of stop-and-go attempts — only to be dropped in on by friends who say they can stay only 15 minutes. Two hours later they are still hanging around — making with the small talk while I silently scream myself to death.

By the time they leave I'm exhausted and furious, and The Great Idea has fled.

If I kept a gun in the house I'm sure one day I would be hanged for murder.—SITTING DUCK

Dear Ducky: Feeling as you do it's just as well that you have no gun. But if there were twelve writers on the jury, you'd be found not guilty.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm only 14 but I know what I'm talking about. That 18-year-old girl who is scared to death that her father will remarry is just too selfish for words.

My father and mother were divorced six years ago. My mother was mentally disturbed and impossible to live with. The court awarded me to my father.

Three years ago my father remarried. He has never been so happy and the same goes for me. When I think of the difference in our lives it is like a fairy tale come true.

I'll guarantee you that when that 18-year-old girl falls in love and wants to get married she won't give a second thought of whether her dad is lonely or not — she'll leave. Now that he shows signs of wanting to make a new life for himself she should encourage him to go ahead. I'm glad I did and I was only 11 at that time. — MISS EXPERIENCE

Dear Miss: You've got a smart head on those young shoulders. Thank you for sharing wisdom far beyond your years.

Big Sam Accardi Put Under Bail Of Half Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Settling (Big Sam) Accardi, 61, accused narcotics kingpin, is being held in bail of a half-million dollars.

Accardi, brought back from his native Italy after three years of legal maneuvering, was arraigned Wednesday in federal court as a bail jumper. Once a lieutenant of the late vice king Charles (Lucky) Luciano, Accardi jumped bails totaling $91,500 in 1955.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau insisted on the $500,000 bond—one of the highest in federal court history—for "an extremely bad bail risk."

Thivierges Leaving For Afghanistan

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thivierge and their three small children, Justin, 6, Julie, 5, and Ann, 4, leave tonight from Idlewild, N.Y., aboard a Pan-American jet airliner on a trip that will take them half way around the world. Their new home will be in Kabul, Afghanistan. They will be there two years.

The Thivierge family has been living in Springfield, N.J. Mrs. Thivierge is the former Mary Lou Venne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Venne of 326 S. 6th St. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thivierge Sr., 1222 Delta Ave., Gladstone, are Mr. Thivierge's parents.

Thivierge, 34, now is with the U.S. State Department, and Afghanistan is his first assignment. His job will be supply advisor for the Agency for International Development, which administers the foreign aid program. This includes, primarily, roads, schools and dams.

Their first stop will be in Paris and their second in Rome where they will be met by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph L. Zryd, formerly of Marquette. From Beirut they will continue by plane to Karachi, Pakistan. Thivierge will work for the Agency there and also in Pershawa. They will drive to Kabul through the Kuyber pass.

Before the family stops they will have covered approximately 12,000 miles.

Kabul is a thriving city of 250,000 people. The population of the country has been estimated at between 8 and 15 million, but no one knows for sure because one-sixth of the people are Nomads who travel the year around by caravan.

There are about 800 Americans living in Kabul, but they do not live in what is known as an "American colony." The Thivierges will settle down in a home among the native population and the children will continue their schooling at the International School with other youngsters from 21 different nations.

Before joining the State Department, Thivierge worked for Parker Kalon, a division of General American Transportation in Clinton, as a production planning manager. Mrs. Thivierge worked several years for the State Department, traveling in the Middle East and throughout Europe.

"I'm willing to do it again after the Afghanistan assignment," she commented. "Maybe we're just modern-day Nomads."

Thornton Fights On TV Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—"He won't push me around like he did Willie. When I hit him he won't keep coming back in."

That's the way Wayne Thornton, the body-banging California light heavyweight contender, feels about his 10-round television fight with Argentine Gregorio Peralta at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Despite Thornton's confidence, Peralta, the heavyweight champion of his country, is a 2-1 favorite. The odds are based largely on the handsome South American's decisive victory over light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano in a nontitle 10-rounder at Miami Beach last Sept. 20.

That was Peralta's debut in the United States. He has won 25 straight for a 39-1 record including 11 knockouts. The Argentine is ranked among the heavyweights, 10th by the World Boxing Association and ninth by Ring Magazine.

Peralta weighed 183½ pounds for Pastrano and has agreed to make 182 for Thornton. It is doubtful whether he can trim down to the 175-pound light heavyweight limit for a title fight with Pastrano.

Thornton can make the 175 and he's eager for the championship shot at Pastrano. He has a 29-3-1 record, including 18 knockouts. He is ranked fourth by the WBA and seventh by Ring.

Peralta had little to say about his opponent.

"The fight will speak for itself," he said. "I'm not coming to lose."

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Pete Rozelle Speaks Today

DETROIT (AP)—National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle will be a guest seaker in Detroit today, and Detroit football fans are anxious to hear what he has to say—as long as it's about Alex Karras.

Rozelle suspended the Detroit Lions' All-Pro defensive tackle last April for betting on games. Lions fans want to know whether Karras can be reinstated, and how.

Rozelle has insisted that he will make no decision on Karras until he reviews the case next January.

William Clay Ford, who is likely to become sole owner of the Lions later this month, planned to attend today's luncheon of the Adercraft Club, where Rozelle is to speak.

Grid Forecaster Figures Packers Will Beat Bears

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—To George Halas this is a year to show that the parade has not passed him by, a year to prove that the Chicago Bears still can win with him as head coach.

To Vince Lombardi this is a year to make history by winning the National Football League playoff for a third straight time, a year to drive home the fact that the Green Bay Packers can win without any one man, even a star like Paul Hornung.

Fate and the NFL schedule throw the Bears and Packers together Sunday with the Western Conference lead, and probably the championship, hanging in the balance.

Last week's score was 8-3, bringing the season totals to 45-17-1 in the NFL and 17-15-2 in the AFL or 62-32-3 in both. Here goes again: (All games Sunday with Houston and Oakland having open dates in the AFL.)

Green Bay 9, Chicago 3—Jerry Kramer with three field goals to one by Roger LeClerc. Bear pass defense too tough and Halas' men have yielded only three TDs on the ground in nine games. Packers rolled 49-0 and 38-7 against Bears last year but had to settle for field goal in 10-3 loss on opening day. Bears could win it all if Bill Wade gambles and hits with bombs, but attack has been sluggish.

Cleveland 24, St. Louis 21—Was all set to pick Cards until learned of injury to Don Brumm.

on top of loss of Ed Henke. Give Frank Ryan time to get set and he can work on defense with Jimmy Brown rolling over the ground. If Ryan falters, look for Blanton Collier to go for Jim Ninowski. Browns' pass defense leaky so Charlie Johnson and his catchers can go for broke. Could go either way.

New York 31, San Francisco 14—Y.A. Tittle against the 49ers who traded him away. 49ers have speed but Giants have know how. San Francisco last in both offense and pass defense.

Pittsburgh 24, Washington 17—Steelers still in race. Can't afford letdown after Browns' game. Skins' defense still full of holes but most teams can pass against Steelers. Pitt won first game 38-27.

Baltimore 23, Minnesota 21—Johnny Unitas showed he still can hit with 17 of 24 last week against Lions. Vikings have given up 32 touchdowns so Colts should get their quota. They did a job on Fran Tarkenton last year, 34-17 and 42-17.

Detroit 21, Los Angeles 7—Earl Morrall on beam and Rams can be had running or passing. Lions won earlier 23-2.

Dallas 28, Philadelphia 21—Eagles still battered and Cowboys are without Jim Ray Smith and Joe Bob Isbell as well as Roy Jordan. Both teams have trouble stopping anybody but give Don Meredith an edge over King Hill although Hill pitched Eagles to 24-21 edge at Philadelphia.

AFL

San Diego 28, Buffalo 20—A big one for Bills who can tie for Eastern lead with idle Houston if they win. But Chargers have the man in Tobin Rote to rip Buffalo's pass defense if they stop Paul Lowe and Keith Lincoln. Teams rate 1-2 on offense.

Boston 20, Kansas City 7—Chiefs have trouble getting on scoreboard and Pats lead league in defense. A win keeps Boston in thick of race while Chiefs are in Western cellar and due for big shakeup.

Denver 28, New York 24—Anybody who can figure this one belongs in the swami business. Denver is home and Jets have reverted to form. First game was 35-35 tie.

Esky Coaches Give Letters

Honored were varsity and jayvee griders and varsity cross country runners. The awards were made by coaches Jerry Cvangros, Frank Miketinnac and Henry Wylie.

Receiving special recognition was Dale Horschner, senior tackle on the Esky football team, who was presented with an All-Upper Peninsula first team certificate by Ray Crandall, sports editor of the Daily Press.

Letter winners follow:

Varsity Football

Former Eskymo, John Olson, On Tech Cage Team

HOUGHTON—Michigan Tech's co-defending Northern Intercollegiate Conference basketball champions face the 1963-64 season without an experienced 'big man' in the lineup.

This lack showed up when the 'leader' of the Huskies last year, 6' 6" Doug Scheuneman, Grand Rapids, was declared ineligible by the NIC Board of Control. Doug set a new Tech single season scoring mark of 428 points; led the NIC in scoring with 196 points; was voted to the All Conference team; was Tech's Most Valuable Player and captain-elect.

Coach Verdie Cox has been working hard to fill the gap. Freshman Jim McLaughlin, Charlotte, at 6' 7" will likely man the post. However, he lacks experience.

A sure bet for one of the forward berths is hard-working Larry Laurich, Marquette. At 6' 3", Larry is able to get on the boards and knows where the basket is. Last year as Tech's sixth man, he dumped in 158 points.

It appears as though Bill Massey, Birmingham, senior guard, will shift to forward. At only 6' 0", he will have to work for his shots but is quick and also has a fine eye for the basket. He tallied 306 last year.

Running mates at guard will be veteran Sandy Johnson, Lansing, a splendid all-around floor man at 6' 0"; and a tremendous freshman prospect, Bill Koski, Champion. Although only 5' 11", Koski has the ability to be a great one. This starting lineup wouldn't give Tech great height, but it would be fast and have scoring ability. Last year Johnson hit 266.

A second unit would likely have either John Olson, Escanaba, or Ted Hegland, Clarkston, at center flanked by veterans Frank Wythe, 6' 3", Holt and Don Frantti, Calumet at 6' 2". Guards would be Marcus Greenleaf, Terre Haute, Ind., a quick 6' 2" freshman, with the fifth spot a toss-up. In the running are: Willie Griffin, Muskegon; Ray Tucker, Midland; Tom Rozich, Painesdale; Ken Szefti, Detroit; Jerry Tripp, Lansing; and Fred Hagen, Houghton.

Another hard-working Houghton rookie is Chuck Noetzel. A shade over 6' 2", he could move up fast on the basis of his play to date.

The Huskies will hold their annual varsity-fresh game on Monday, Nov. 25. Tech opens the season Friday, Dec. 6, meeting Superior State at Houghton.

Baseball Draft Lists Bargains

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's bargain hunters were busily engaged in scrutinizing the annual draft list released today by Commissioner Ford Frick, hoping to come up with a gem or two among the 1,500 minor league players who can be had for prices ranging from $8,000 to $25,000.

The usual group of has-beens and those who never were fill up nearly half the 34 pages it took to list the eligibles. But there are a seemingly goodly number of athletes on the list who might be worthy of the draft price.

Several have had previous big league trials and were found wanting. They could succeed if given a second chance. Among these are outfielder Carroll Hardy, who batted .316 at Oklahoma City last season with 16 home runs and 61 RBI.

Another is Bob Will, the former Chicago Cub outfielder who led the Pacific Coast League with a .370 batting average at Salt Lake City. First baseman Don Davis, also at Salt Lake City, batted .300 in 120 games.

The PCL's top pitcher, Howard Reed, with a 19-7 record at Spokane, also is on the list.

Reed, a right-hander failed in a trial with the New York Mets last spring.

Just two years ago, Howard Kopitz, following a 23-5 season in the Southern Association, was one of Detroit's brightest hopes. He can be had for $25,000 after his 7-8 record at Syracuse. The same kind of dough can get Danny Murphy, who received more than $100,000 bonus from the Cubs several years ago. The 23-year-old outfielder batted .268 with 12 homers at Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City, a Houston farm club, also offers outfielder Dave Roberts, who hit .270 with 17 home runs and catcher Joe Wooten, .270 with seven homers.

International League candidates include outfielder Lou Jackson, .315 with 31 homers at Toronto; first baseman Cal Emery, .314 with 10 homers at Little Rock; outfielder Ray Conde, .205 with 11 homers at Indianapolis.

Michigan Hosts Iowa Hawkeyes

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan will be out to get a firmer hold in the Big Ten's first division when it tangles with a rugged Iowa football team here Saturday.

Michigan, which has yielded just 20 points in its last three games, has been warned by coach Bump Elliott that another top performance will be needed to beat the Hawkeyes.

Both teams enter the game with overall records of 3-3-1. Michigan has a 2-2-1 league record. The Hawkeyes are 2-3. The Wolverines are in fifth place and a victory Saturday, coupled with a loss by Purdue at Minnesota, would clinch their first undisputed first division finish under Elliott. Michigan shared fifth place in 1960.

Michigan again will be led by quarterback Bob Timberlake, who has done virtually everything right since taking over in the second half of the game against Purdue five weeks ago.

Timberlake is fourth among Big Ten passers and fourth in total offense.

Iowa's quarterback duo of Gary Snook and Fred Riddle rank just behind the tall Wolverine. Snook is sixth in total offense.

The Hawkeyes, who will be playing their last conference game of the season, are expected to use a running attack headed by halfback Lonnie Rogers and fullback Bob Grier. Rogers is seventh in Big Ten rushing and Grier is 10th.

Iowa end Floyd Webb ranks third in the league in pass receiving, with 15 catches and 286 yards gained, and eighth in scoring.

In This Corner with Ray Crandall

Manistique's Ron Rubick continues to contribute heavily to Michigan State's football successes after a late start this season because of a knee injury. In last week's 23-0 victory over Purdue, the senior halfback carried eight times for 38 yards. His season total is 138 yards on 21 carries for an average of 6.5 per trip, best of the Spartan backs.

George Wolfe, former Munising athlete is the third leading scorer on the Central Michigan University football team with 18 points on three touchdowns. Wolfe has gained 87 yards in 39 carries and has caught six passes for 37 yards. Central has a record of four victories, four defeats and one tie.

Jim Malloch of Manistique and Jim Allen of Escanaba were among 10 Upper Peninsula athletes receiving varsity football letters at Michigan Tech this fall. Coach Bill Lucier's Huskies won the NIC championship with a 4-1 record and had an overall 6-2 mark, best at the school since 1959.

One of the Upper Peninsula's most successful coaches will be watching from the sidelines this basketball season. Jack Taylor has resigned after seven years as mentor of the Negaunee Miners, always a tough contender in the Great Lake Conference. Taylor's teams compiled a 78-57 record and won a state Class B championship. He'll be succeeded by Bob Herman, a former Negaunee athlete.

Missing from the Upper Peninsula coaching scene this year will be Ed Helakoski who gained fame as coach of the Chassell Panthers who won 65 straight games and three consecutive state Class D championships in the late 1950's. Helakoski has resigned as coach of the White Pine Warriors but will remain on the school's faculty. Taking his place will be Roy Luttinen, coach at Bergland the last five years.

Fred Boddy, former outstanding Escanaba athlete, faces a formidable rebuilding task at Champion this year. Boddy's Indians have won 37 straight games in the last two seasons, adding six of eight victories in tournament competition for an overall 43-2 mark. Biggest job will be replacing Bill Koski who scored 1,236 points during that two-season victory string.

Coach Duane Phillips' Ishpeming Hematites, who invade Manistique tonight, have six lettermen back from last year's squad. The Hematites will be one of the smallest teams in the Great Lakes Conference this season with only Mike Tunteri (6-1) topping the 6-foot mark.

Gwinn, a team that will face Holy Name twice this season, is blessed with a wealth of returning lettermen. Coach Jerry Erickson, beginning his eighth year at the Model Tower helm, has his first six players back in the fold. And six of his squad members are 6-0 or taller. Dan Purple and John Erickson were last year's top point producers.

Watch out for Negaunee St. Paul again this season. Coach Alan Dighera (named U.P. cage coach of the year last season) has 10 lettermen, including four starters, back from the team that reached the state Class D tournament finals before losing to Britton Macon 59-58. The returning regulars are Dom Jacobetti, Lon St. Aubin, Rod Guizzetti and Dennis Baratonio.

One of the players to keep an eye on in large school action this season is Bruce Forstrom of Marquette. The slick senior southpaw pivot, rated as one of the best big men in the region, missed six games with a broken ankle last season. But while he was in action, Coach Fred Taccolini's Redmen won nine of 11 starts.

Coach Bill Howes, whose Rudyard Bulldogs won the Upper Peninsula Class B cage crown last season, has been sidelined by illness for the last couple of weeks. He is recuperating at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Howes, in Gladstone. Roy Hamilton, Rudyard grid coach, will handle the basketball chores until Howes' return. The Bulldogs open their season tonight at Pickford.

There is a good possibility that Escanaba and Kingsford will clash on the Escanaba football field next fall. Officials of the schools are ironing out some scheduling wrinkles and expect to come up with an announcement in the near future. The possibility came about when Marinette was unable to fit Escanaba into its schedule for 1964 and 1965, as previously planned.

Three Deer Killed In Two Mishaps

State Police report two car-deer accidents within the past 24-hour period in which three deer were killed.

The first accident occurred at 5:45 p. m. Thursday, four and a half miles north of Rock on M-35. Sharon L. Peterson, 17, of Rte. 1, Rock, was driving north on M-35 when a deer jumped from the west side of the road and struck the left front door of her car.

Arthur O. Paavola of Garden City, Mich., told officers that as he was driving north on M-35 at the Village limits of Rock two deer jumped from the side of the road into the path of his vehicle. One of the deer ran into the front of the car and the second into the side.

Paavola said the mishap occurred about 6:30 a. m. today. The Conservation Department was notified of both incidents.

Fiscal Reform Rejection Ends Special Session

The opportunity for improvement has been announced by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. The varieties, named Coachman and Ausable, are reportedly plumper and higher-yielding than any now available to Michigan growers.

Governor Blamed
Gov. George Romney killed Michigan tax reform by "unyielding and arrogant" insistence on his own way, the state's top Democrats charged Thursday.

Former Gov. John B. Swainson said Romney, in recent statements, almost appeared to be "going out of his way not to get the votes he obviously needed" for tax reform.

Swainson, and the Democrat who was governor before him, G. Mennen Williams, both expressed regret that the special session of the legislature voted down tax reform Thursday.

Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said from Washington: "It was disappointing to learn that Michigan is not to have a tax reform program that it badly needs."

Big Words Used
Democrats realize, Swainson said, that "the impact of taxes is unfair and Michigan taxes don't produce the revenues we need."

"There was never any secret that the Democrats would support his program if the city income tax was removed and the senior citizens were given genuine homestead exemptions," said Lt. Gov. J. John Lesinski, highest elected Democrat in Michigan.

"But," he said, "Gov. Romney never traveled to the votes. 'He preferred a salutatory enthusiasm to bipartisan life,' Lesinski added. 'Fiscal reform died Sept. 12 (the day the legislature's special session began). The wake is over.'"

Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., mentioned as a possibility for the Democratic nomination for governor, said the Romney program's defeat "indicates obviously that using the tax program for personal aggrandizement won't work."

New Oats Will Get U.P. Test

Release of two new oat varieties has been announced by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. The varieties, named Coachman and Ausable, are reportedly plumper and higher-yielding than any now available to Michigan growers.

Certified seed growers will multiply the seed in 1964 for sale to all farmers for their 1965 crop, says J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director.

The Michigan State University scientists who developed the new varieties, Drs. John Grafius and Richard Kiesling, report that test weights and size of grain for the new varieties are 10 per cent or more higher than for varieties now commonly used.

In recent tests, Grafius found that Coachman yielded an average of 108 bushels an acre in a two-year field test program in Lenawee county, compared to Clintland 60 at 93 bushels an acre.

The new Ausable variety averaged 106 bushels in Ingham county and 117 in Tuscola. This compared with yields of 101 and 111 bushels, respectively, for Rodney.

Ausable is not recommended for the Upper Peninsula. Coachman appears to be the best suited as an early oat for the Upper Peninsula, although field tests are needed to support this observation.

"We hope to test them in Delta County in 1964. They would be checked against such varieties as Garry, Ajax, Abemeits and possibly one or two more," said Heirman.

Tax Cuts Now Called Gamble By Sen. Byrd

These unemployment figures are not always accurate. They don't know whether the people are employable and so forth. So I don't believe it will directly have much effect on the unemployed.

After all, I might point out that the tax reduction in the lower brackets is not going to be very much. Those earning up to $3,000 get a $49 reduction. That's about 15 cents a day. The average for all taxpayers will be $110 a year.

I don't believe that's going to stimulate this enormous purchasing power which is anticipated by the administration to the extent that they think it is. Q. The President seems to think that action on the tax measures has been stalled as part of a slowdown to prevent progress on civil rights legislation. Is this true?

A. I don't think it's true as far as the Senate Finance Committee is concerned. The bill came over to the Senate Finance Committee the first week in October. It had previously had consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee for eight months. Hearings have been held every day and I don't think there has been any connection whatever with respect to the civil rights.

Illness Of Four Is Blamed On Tainted Shrimp
MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Four illnesses here, believed caused by contaminated frozen shrimp seized Wednesday in Detroit, were reported Thursday.

The illnesses, all in the same family, took place last Friday, Dr. E. J. Brenner of the Isabella County Health Department said. All have recovered.

Brenner identified the four as Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mazzeo and their two children, 11 and 13. Mazzeo, a registered nurse at the Mount Pleasant State Home and Training School, said he gave first aid to his wife and children and treated himself.

Brenner said Mazzeo reported the family had eaten from a shrimp package which was part of a shipment which had been sent from Kansas City to Detroit.

The Pentagon announced Thursday the number of such squadrons will be cut 40 per cent by next July.

Foreign and Defense Ministry officials reported that the United States obtained West Germany's agreement before reaching this decision.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said the Bonn government does not believe the reduction will weaken U.S. ability to defend Europe.

No injuries were reported. Included in the damage were several mowers and tractors, a truck, bulldozer, crane, automobile, and radio tower.

Firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to three house trailers and four other buildings nearby. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Turf Farm Fire Loss $100,000
FOWLERVILLE (AP) — A fire at the Emerald Valley Turf Nursery Co. Thursday destroyed some $100,000 in buildings and equipment, according to Robert Damman, manager at the nursery.

Firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to three house trailers and four other buildings nearby. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Sportsmen Fight Dam In Alaska

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A "boondoggle," says the dictionary, is "any unnecessary and wasteful project."

An example of a boondoggle, says the National Wildlife Federation, is the proposed Rampart Canyon in Alaska. This is the opinion of an increasing number of conservation agencies and organizations across the country, the Federation reports.

Noting that its Alaska affiliate, the Alaska Sportsmen's Council, adopted a resolution at its Nov. 3 annual meeting in Sitka opposing any efforts that might be made at this time to obtain congressional authorization for the $1.3 billion Rampart project. Federation officials anticipate that delegates from all of the organization's 50 state affiliates may place the national organization on record against the proposal at its annual meeting in Las Vegas, Nev., next March.

The Rampart Canyon project, as proposed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and endorsed by some Alaskans, would be located 756 miles up the Yukon River about 100 air miles northwest of Fairbanks. A dam 525 feet high would be built, creating a lake some 280 miles long and up to 80 miles wide with a surface area of about 10,500 square miles. By comparison, Lake Erie is 5,002 square miles in size and Lake Huron has 8,975 square miles of surface area.

Announced purpose of the project would be to provide 4.7 kilowatts of electrical energy for some yet-to-be-determined use. Less well publicized are the public works aspects.

Why have National Wildlife Federation affiliates in Alaska, Delaware, Michigan, New Mexico, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, as well as such groups as the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners, the California and Utah Fish and Game Departments, and the Federation of Western Outdoor Clubs raised voices to protest this Rampart project when legislation to authorize its construction hasn't even been introduced?

Federation spokesmen indicate that, even though the official U. S. Department of the Interior report on the impact of the project on fish and wildlife resources has not been released, enough information has been learned to warrant the alarm that is spreading among conservationists.

Should Rampart dam be built, they say, it is estimated that more duck production habitat than all that is presently protected within the National Wildlife Refuge System would be destroyed. Official reports indicate that the Federal refuges in the 48 contiguous States produced some 350,000 ducks and 12,000 geese in 1962.

Unofficial statements have been made to the effect that the Yukon Flats, which would be flooded by Rampart dam, contribute annually 1.5 million ducks and 12,000 geese to the continental fall population, and that these birds travel through all four flyways. Conservationists question whether or not these losses could be mitigated.

Hundreds of thousands of valuable salmon spawn in stretches of the Pukon River and its tributaries above the proposed dam and up to what spawning grounds will be left.

Thousands of moose would be rendered homeless, together with large numbers of black and grizzly bears and millions of fur-bearing animals.

Recognizing that the economy of Alaska may be in dire straits, most conservation groups are hopeful that any power needs for the state may be met through means other than the Rampart project. Gas fields, nuclear energy, and less harmful hydroelectric sites offer alternate opportunities for meeting Alaska's power needs.

Grandmother Has Date To Sail On Mercy Ship

LANSING (AP) — A grandmother who graduated from college in June has a date with the mercy ship SS Hope in New York Sunday to begin a year of nursing service in Ecuador.

Mrs. Lottie Lamphere, who said she married "awfully young" and admitted being in her late 40's, graduated with a B.S. in nursing from Michigan State University.

"I started with only one course in 1957, to find out how I liked it, and ended by going nearly full-time for the last two years," she said.

After graduating, Mrs. Lamphere transferred to the intensive care unit at Lansing's Edward Sparrow Hospital, working constantly with critically ill patients.

The Hope attracted her attention in 1958 and she said she's been hoping for an appointment to its staff ever since.

The ship is scheduled to land Dec. 2 at Guayaquil, Ecuador.
